A Theology of Work

God has ordained work as a blessing for mankind and for His Kingdom. When we work we exercise dominion over all of God's creation. Read Genesis 1:28-30.

God himself works and so did Jesus – John 5:17

We work and take dominion over all of God's creation, and hard work and being creative is pleasing to the Lord. So, anyone who does not work is lazy and steals from the wealth of those who work – Proverbs 18:9

Work provides a number of benefits, namely:

- 1) It gives us an income to provide for our basic needs – he who does not work should not eat!
- 2) It keeps us mentally healthy by focusing our minds on something productive and keeps us out of idleness and mischief.
- 3) It develops our gifts and talents, and helps us to discover our potentials and abilities. Work is a gift of God to man for him to discover himself.
- 4) It allows us to become a co-creator with God and challenges us to be creative.
- 5) It makes us to be a blessing to other people by benefiting from our labour.
